

Substituting asbestos insulations panel on roofing is a very common practice all around the world, particularly in places where is totally banned or countries in process of prohibition